FOREWORD

Florida Southern College writes her highest degree on the souls of her sons and daughters. The parchment page of scholarship—the colored ribbon of a society—the jeweled emblem of a fraternity or sorority, the red and white symbol of athletic prowess—all these, a year hence, will be at the best the mementos of happy hours—like the withered flower a woman presses between the pages of a book for sentiment's sake.

BUT If you live a long, long time, and hold honesty of conscience above honesty of purse;
And turn aside without ostentation to help
the weak;
And treasure ideals more than ambition;
And track no man to his underserved hurt;
And pursue no woman to her tears;
And love the beauty of noble music and blossoming orange trees—
If you live a long time and keeping the faith in all these things hour by hour, still see that the sun gilds your path with real gold and that the moon floats in dream silver;

THEN . . . Remembering the mist covered lake at dawn, the placid greenness of the garden, and the dream of your youth, you may say in reverence
and thankfulness:

"I have worn the honors of Honor. I graduated from Florida Southern College."

DEDICATION

This 1946-47 Interlachen is dedicated to Dr. Robert S. Bly. Dr. Bly has been the head of the Chemistry Department of Florida Southern College for many years. His faculty associates and students regard him as an outstanding instructor as well as a scholar. He takes great personal interest in his students.

The President's Message

To The Students of Florida Southern College:

First of all, I want to congratulate the editors, the business manager, and all those who helped to make the Interlachen of 1947 a success. The difficult task of getting the material ready, and preparing it for the press requires not only great endeavor, but efficiency.

Then, too, I want this letter to be a word of congratulations to the Senior Class of 1947. To most of you, this will be the end of your formal education. You will be plunged into your life's work. I hope that everyone of you will keep in mind that even though you are no longer on the campus, you are still a part of your Alma Mater. Your success will be its success.

Finally, I should like to give a word of encouragement to all of the students who have not finished their college course. Do not let anything interfere with your college education. There is a way for you to complete it. Find that way. It is the most essential task that confronts you now.

I trust that everyone of you will have a happy summer. If I can be of service to you at any time, I hope you will feel free to call upon me.

Very sincerely yours,
Ludd M. Spivey
President

*You're So Pretty
when you Blush!*

AND we don't mean just in the fleeting moment when your skin is suffused with a radiantly becoming glow.

We mean that a blush—natural or stimulated—actually helps your skin stay lovelier, grow prettier. Here's why:

It is a medical fact that only your blood stream can properly nourish your skin. Only your blood stream carries away waste products in a natural and normal manner.

So a blush — which is simply a momentary rush of blood to the surface — means that your skin is enjoying a little extra feeding, being cleansed, a touch more thoroughly, of natural waste products.

What Dermetics Blushing Oil does is to stimulate the skin briefly to perform this quite natural function. Spread it on lightly with your finger tips and you feel its action in a gentle tingle — see it in the rosy glow that looks back at you from your mirror.

Your skin feels fresh — alive—radiant—grateful for this gentle pick-me-up.

There's no miracle about the results that come from this daily treatment. The whole treatment is as simple and sound as brushing your hair to keep it shining and soft.

But you should see for yourself what daily use of Blushing does. See, too, how its good companions—Soil Adsorbing Cleanser and other Dermetics Complexion Oils — round out and complete this so-sensible skin care.

If you don't find Dermetics at your favorite shop, write Dermetics inc., 630 Fifth Avenue, New York 20, N. Y. We'll send you our booklet, The True Story of Your Skin, containing some amazing facts about skin and its care.
